

Copy and complete the following table with examples of each type of speech and explain its use or effect.

▼ TYPE	EXAMPLE	▼ EFFECT
Indirect speech
Direct speech
Direct speech without quotation marks

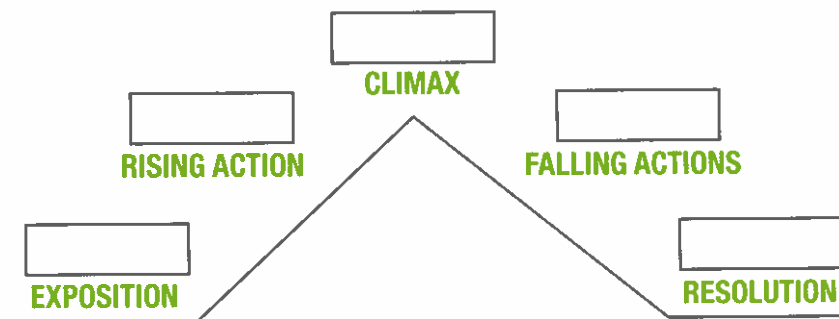

SUBJECT VOCABULARY

exposition a thorough introductory description

Short stories have to have a tight structure in order to convey a complete story in relatively few words. This structure can be split into five different sections:

- exposition
- rising action
- climax
- falling action
- resolution.

The plot diagram below illustrates this common structural pattern. Copy and fill in the boxes with an event or reference from 'Night' that corresponds with the different stages of the plot of a short story.

ACTIVITY 2

A04

SKILLS

COLLABORATION, EMPATHY, NEGOTIATION

▼ THINKING ABOUT ADVICE

In groups, discuss the kind of advice you would give someone who is recovering from a long illness. Talk about different aspects such as taking care of their health, building up strength and stamina as well as ways to occupy their time.